The Blockvis team has performed a thorough review of the smart contract code of UHC (UFOHotelCoin) token from June 2018. The smart contract of the project ufohotel.io belongs to German company JA EXPERTS AG.

First smart contract review comprised UHC security and business verification analysis and debriefing. After then developers fixed all bugs. Based on Blockvis advice development team re-deployed the upgrade smart contract with a token name UFOHotelCoin.

Blockvis team has performed second audit for UFOHotelCoin smart contract in September 2018.

All the tests passed successfully. The audit discovered no vulnerabilities. Here under vulnerabilities we assume security issues that can be exploited by an external attacker.

The audit discovered no discrepancies between the code and the provided documentation. The audit showed that UFOHotelCoin was fully ERC20 compliant and did not revealed any ERC20 "SHOULD" requirements violations.

Besides, UFOHotelCoin smart contract contains high integrated eco-system with internal commissions for referrals, agents and marketplaces, while limiting and healthfully organizing any possible secondary markets.

Smart contract includes ranking of the customers and bonus rewards.

We can note that UFOHotelCoin is rather advanced token that we have seen in our audit processes.
